“We will become an economic and social force on the East Coast and foster a healthy balance between teaching and scholarship.”

TO OUR COLLEGE OF CHARLESTON COMMUNITY:

Close your eyes for a moment and conjure mental images of your favorite campus settings at the College of Charleston: the Cistern Yard, Glebe Street, Fraternity Row on Wentworth Street, the Sottile House. ...

Now imagine the campus abuzz with an intellectual fervor as strong as the campus is beautiful. Imagine this energy touches every student, professor and employee at the College, and inspires every visitor.

In short, imagine the College of Charleston as a first-class national university.

Open your eyes, and you'll see the College is nearly there: Today's College is home to unparalleled programs in the arts, marine sciences, urban planning, historic preservation and hospitality and tourism management, among others. It boasts signature assets that include Grice Marine Laboratory, Carolina First Arena, Dixie Plantation and Addlestone Library.

As we strive to make the College of Charleston one of the nation's top liberal arts and sciences universities, we will continue to refine these pockets of excellence and we will develop other strengths by drawing on the College's one-of-a-kind location and history. We will become an economic and social force on the East Coast and foster a healthy balance between teaching and scholarship. Our faculty will be thought leaders in the world, and our students will enjoy the advantages of a unique, personalized education.

To accomplish these goals, we are crafting a strategic plan for the College. This plan includes a new financial model that will generate a more reliable source of operating funds and, hopefully, inspire our supporters and alumni to increase their gifts.

Gifts allow us to grow, and donors enable us to establish a margin of excellence that can make the College of Charleston one of the world's great universities.

This is where you and the College of Charleston Foundation make a real difference. Your past support has been invaluable, and I urge you to continue your support of the College as it begins a new chapter in its history. This will be an exciting journey, and you play a critical part in the College of Charleston realizing its great potential.

Sincerely,

P. George Benson
President

TO OUR ALUMNI, PARENTS AND MANY FRIENDS:

suffice it to say this past year has presented extraordinary financial challenges to the entire higher education sector. Our campus is not immune. However, in times of economic duress the true mettle of the College of Charleston and its supporters is revealed. Thank you for your continued support of the College, and for making an impact in all areas of academic excellence.

In good times, and especially in not so good times, careful stewardship of your gifts is critical. Each and every gift to the College is important. We've prepared this annual donor report with you and your gifts in mind.

Under President P. George Benson's leadership, the College of Charleston is preparing a new strategic plan, drawing on the College's many impressive attributes to make the school the first choice of exceptional students. As President Benson says, "We have the talent and creativity to collectively construct an impressive and imaginative agenda for the College's growth and improvement over the next decade."

Let me again thank each of you for your generosity. The College has weathered previous storms, and I am confident we will emerge from this one even stronger than we were before. On behalf of our 11,300 students, our 864 faculty members and especially those of us responsible for stewarding and guiding the College's future, "Thank you for all that you do for the College of Charleston!"

And, we thank you in advance for what you will continue to do.

With very best regards,

George P. Watt Jr.
Executive Vice President, Institutional Advancement
Executive Director, College of Charleston Foundation

Alumni and parents provided 70 percent of all gifts given to the College of Charleston.

The College of Charleston Foundation is grateful to the individuals and organizations who generously support the College. Private support comes in the form of annual gifts, gifts to the endowment, capital gifts and life income and estate gifts.

Alumni and parents provided 70 percent of all gifts given to the College of Charleston. Along with alumni and parents, many corporations, foundations and organizations invested in the College and its mission through grants, matching gifts and outright donations. This broad donor base represents a strong culture of philanthropy in support of the strategic initiatives of the College.

The College of Charleston is focused on affordability and accessibility. Though the College receives part of its total budget from the state of South Carolina, in order to advance the College, public-private partnerships must be strengthened through your support. State funding provides the means for a basic education, and private support turns a basic education into an exceptional one.

What do private gifts accomplish at the College of Charleston? Private gifts fund academic opportunities and enhancements that advance the College. Generous alumni and friends make gifts to fund faculty chairs, professorships and awards that enable the College to recruit and retain outstanding teacher-scholars. Private gifts also provide students with scholarship support. Donors have contributed to funds that launch new programs of study and enhance established ones, as well as renovate older facilities and provide the financial means for new construction.

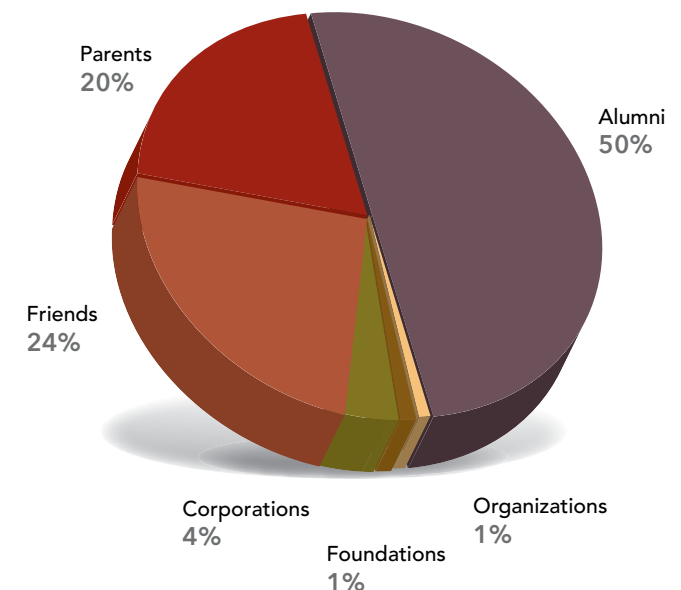

Thank you for your support this year, and every year.

YEAR AT A GLANCE

Once again, in 2008, students, faculty, staff and the College of Charleston itself received national and international recognition and attention. Whether it was through innovative academic research, pioneering entrepreneurial initiatives, exciting sports highlights or entertaining and thought-provoking events with national speakers, performers or political leaders, the College made 2008 a year to remember.

JANUARY

Introduced by U.S. Senator John Kerry, president-to-be Barack Obama spoke in the Cistern Yard as part of the College's "Bully Pulpit Series: Reflections on Presidential Communication," which also brought U.S. Senator John McCain to the College – not to mention U.S. Senator John Edwards and U.S. Rep. Ron Paul in 2007 – as well as national and international media attention.

FULBRIGHT

Four faculty members earned Fulbright scholarships to travel the globe, conducting research in Italy, India, Burkina Faso and Canada.

FEBRUARY

More than 300 students participated in the 15-hour overnight Dance Marathon, raising $42,000 (more than double the funds raised in the event's inaugural year) for the Medical University of South Carolina Children's Hospital.

The College celebrated the grand opening of the Patriot's Point Athletic Complex in Mt. Pleasant, following a $3-million renovation to a hospitality deck, seating for 2,000 spectators and a 3,000-square-foot indoor practice facility.

The College community worked side by side with members of the greater Charleston community, raising $60,000 and building a Habitat for Humanity home for a local family in just two weeks.

The men's swimming and diving team won the inaugural Coastal Collegiate Swimming Association Championship, where Coach Bruce Zimmerman was named the Men's Swim Coach of the Year.

As a reward for winning the David L. Shelton Full-length Student Play Award for his play The Mind's I at the 2008 Region IV Kennedy Center American College Theater Festival, then-junior Michael Smallwood went for a two-week playwriting workshop at the Kennedy Center in Washington, D.C. The Department of Theatre is producing Smallwood's play at this year's Kennedy Center American College Theater Festival Region IV at the University of North Carolina – Greensboro.

MARCH

Just halfway through its first year offering the First-Year Experience, the College gained national recognition for the new program, which was ranked as one of the top 25 first-year experiences in the nation by U.S. News & World Report.

APRIL

The College saw 25 of its students and alumni join the 2008 class of Peace Corps volunteers, setting a single-year record for the College, which ranked sixth regionally in the Peace Corps' 2007 list of top 20 volunteer-producing colleges.

Joseph Pollock, then a first-year graduate student in marine science, received one of the 13 highly coveted Fulbright Postgraduate Scholarships to study in Australia. Through the Australian-American Fulbright Commission, he is studying coral reef disease with faculty at the James Cook University and the Australian Institute of Marine Science.

With a total of 11,421 applicants, the College received a record number of applications for admission for the fall 2008 semester.

MAY

Jeremie Tice was named the Southern Conference Player of the Year for baseball.

The College's Students in Free Enterprise team placed fourth in SIFE's national financial case-study competition and went on to rank in the top 4 percent of more than 800 SIFE teams competing at the SIFE USA National Exposition in Chicago, where they received national recognition.

The Lowcountry Graduate Center and The Graduate School of the College of Charleston established the graduate certificate in urban and regional planning to address an immediate need within the greater Charleston community.

Hannah Mayer captured the National Reserved Champion title in the USEF/Cacchione Cup competition at the Intercollegiate Horse Show Association nationals.

The College launched a Facebook page, a YouTube channel and an Apple iTunes U site to promote communication between prospective students, current students and alumni.

JUNE

The women's sailing team was first in Sailing World magazine's college rankings, and the men's sailing team ranked sixth. In addition, several members from both teams earned Inter-Collegiate Sailing Association awards.

Senior Steffi Kirchmayr was named the Southern Conference Golfer of the Year for the second year in a row and received the Golfweek magazine Honorable Mention All-American for her performance, including winning the Cuthbert Cup and the Pinehurst Challenge tournaments and finishing 13th out of 108 at the NCAA Central Regional Championship.

JULY

The College hosted the fifth biennial conference of the Toni Morrison Society, at which the Nobel Prize laureate read from her new novel, A Mercy.

English professor Bret Lott went on a three-week national book tour to publicize his 12th novel, Ancient Highway (Random House).

AUGUST

U.S. News & World Report ranked the College No. 4 among all public colleges in the South and No. 9 among 128 private and public Southern universities that award master's degrees. It also put the College on its "Up and Coming Schools to Watch" list.

The Princeton Review again rated the College one of the nation's best institutions for undergraduate education in its 2009 edition of The Best 368 Colleges, where a student-based survey also lists Charleston as one of the top 15 "Great College Towns."

Kiplinger's Personal Finance magazine ranked the College in the top 14 percent of the nation's public universities in providing "a first-rate education without breaking the bank." Out of the 500 universities it examines, the ranking put the College at No. 70 for in-state students and No. 67 for out-of-state students.

SEPTEMBER

Thanks to the generosity of five visionary donors, the Friends of the Library acquired first editions of five great works seen below: George Louis Leclerc de Buffon's Histoire Naturelle (1749–1778); Herodotus' Histories (1502); Alexander Hamilton, James Madison and John Jay's The Federalist (1788); Charles Darwin's On the Origin of Species (1859); and Captain James Cook's Voyages (1773–1784).

OCTOBER

Hollywood came to campus this year to film scenes of Kevin Costner's latest movie, The New Daughter, which features actress Margaret Anne Florence '01. Also filmed at the College was Dear John, a movie based on a Nicholas Sparks book that stars Amanda Seyfried from Mama Mia!

Businessman Guy E. Beatty Jr. pledged $60 million to the College as part of an estate trust – the largest single donation thus far to a South Carolina public institution of higher education. Beatty's gift is intended for scholarships and campus infrastructure over a 30-year period.

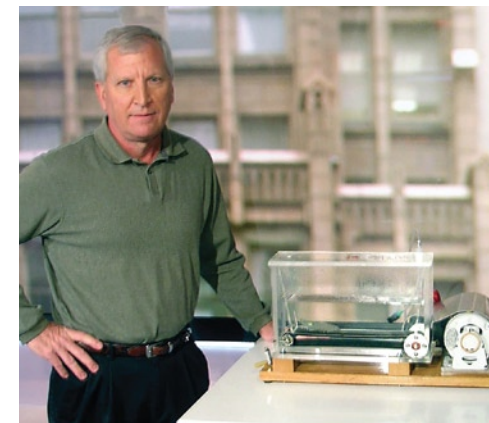

NOVEMBER

The new 5,000-seat Carolina First Arena opened on Meeting Street.

The College hosted the inaugural Charleston Classic, an ESPN basketball tournament featuring 12 games over three days, with six games broadcast on Comcast/Charter Sports Southeast. Sponsored by the Southern Conference, the tournament was the first event held at the College's new Carolina First Arena.

Two College choirs were invited to perform at the two most prestigious choral festivals in the country. The College of Charleston Concert Choir was invited to perform at the Second Conference of the National Collegiate Choral Organization, and the Taylor Festival Choir was one of only two adult chamber choirs chosen to perform at the highly competitive 2009 national convention (and 50th anniversary celebration) of the American Choral Directors Association.

Grice Marine Lab Director Lou Burnett's "Shrimp on a Treadmill" video started out as part of scientific research and ended up a worldwide YouTube phenomenon, inspiring more than 60 spinoff videos and landing him on The Today Show.

DECEMBER

The College's Office of Research and Grants Administration was awarded a record $7.5 million in grants during 2007–2008, breaking the College's previous record of $7.1 million in 2005–2006.

1770 SOCIETY

We couldn't have done it without them. The 1770 Society represents exceptional donors to the College of Charleston – alumni, parents, students, friends and corporate and foundation partners who give generously each year, with no restrictions on their support. Since the 1770 Society was established in 2003, donors' commitments have been essential to furthering the mission of the College.

A CHANGE WORTH NOTING

In past years, the 1770 Society only recognized unrestricted giving – i.e. gifts to the College of Charleston Fund that provide support to critical resources across the entire campus. Beginning in 2009 and moving forward, all annual gifts made to the College, regardless of purpose, will count toward 1770 Society recognition.

Since all the generous support we receive at the College has an impact and helps our institution to excel in both teaching and scholarship, we feel that the 1770 Society should include more of our leader donors. It is through their generosity that the College is able to strike the right combination of research, personalized education and top academic programs.

CISTERN SOCIETY

It's sacred ground at the College, where students read, friends gather and graduates dance across a stage. The Cistern has been a landmark in the College community since its construction in 1857. The Cistern Society emphasizes the importance of such permanence, and its members choose to support the College through gift and estate planning, leaving additional legacies at the College.

GETTING INVOLVED

There are many ways to give to the College. Monetary support is certainly one option, but your time and expertise are also valuable gifts to the institution.

There are many roles for our volunteers, especially in the areas of development and institutional advancement. You may choose to do one, some or all of the following:

- Serve on one of the many boards and advisory groups around campus that match your interests.
- Share your expertise with current students and alumni by working with a particular department, school or the College's Career Center.
- Provide access to your networks, other sources of philanthropy, other foundations, corporations or individuals.
- Provide insights and consulting in the development of major donor strategies and cultivation.
- Provide advisory services in the areas of annual giving, planned giving, corporate relations and the Parents Advisory Council.
- Provide opportunities to tell the College of Charleston story and share your relationship with the school at country club venues, homes and College-sponsored events.
- Develop relationships with potential donors.
- Become part of the stewardship team, writing thank-you notes and conducting follow-ups.
- Offer a challenge gift to inspire others to give.

CISTERN YARD

LIST OF DONORS

We would like to thank the following alumni, parents, faculty, staff, friends, corporations, foundations and organizations for their support to the College of Charleston in 2008. This list reflects gifts received from donors of record for the period of Jan. 1 through Dec. 31, 2008.

Every contribution, of any size, makes a significant impact in promoting the vision of the College. It is because of your generosity that we are able to continue a long-standing tradition of excellence and provide services such as the creation of new scholarships, expansion of academic programs and the renovation and construction of new facilities.

We are grateful for your contribution and commitment to the College. You are forever a part of the College of Charleston family.
